HE HAS CHARGES TO ANSWER. SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY SHOWN

Several Applicants After the Appointment-St. Louisan's Name on Every Hand-Another Excursion Soon Will Be Made.

After what is regarded as the most suc cessful of the five excursions given by the St. Louis Merchants' and Manufacturers' Excursion Association into tributary States fice and to answer charges preferred the party of sixty-five representative business men who have spent the last week touring the South returned to their homes The notion that such an expedition is more y he went to church and later called on of a lark than a profitable advertising scheme has been sufficiently answered by e President on Monday and would make statement that would convince Mr. Roose the fruit of this excursion. Another will be it and Secretary Hitchcock that the given. The plans for this have not yet been narges against him were filed merely to matured or even officially discussed, But prevent his reappointment and that they among the excursionists it was common talk that it would be through Arkansas and Louistana along lines about as far from the to a large extent upon his Ohio friends to Mississippi River as have been those just upport him in his efforts to retain his place. traversed. Reports that the President has decided to pany, it may be confidently asserted, will take advantage of the advertising oppor-tunity offered by the next excursion even more extensively than of the one just end-ed. 'The World's Fair directors had no idea," said their representative, Mr. Robert Kern, "of the great benefit which co-operation in one of these business men's excur-sions could be to them. Their asking me to go through Kentucky, Tennessee and Mis-sissippi was in the nature of an experiment. The success which attended the efforts of Mr. Allen and myself in Mississippi proved the wisdom of that experiment. Mississippi which appropriated nothing for the Chicago Atlanta and Buffalo expositions, will cer-tainly spend in the neighborhood of $50,000 in St. Louis. Other States are equally amenable to the sort of encouragement and per-suasion which won success for us this last he administration a definite statement of which supported the last excursion made no which supported the last excursion made no effort to take orders for goods in the short stays which were allowed the many towns visited, they feel that the city of St. Louis has been so advertised that it will be easy for their traveling men to reap a harvest by invading the same territory immediately. This will be done.

The Southern merchants who have been so hospitable will be shown the advantages of purchasing from St. Louis jobbers and manufacturers rather than from competing firms in smaller cities. uship in the past three years has given the Washington authorities a great deal of so hospitable will be shown the advantages of purchasing from St. Louis jobbers and manufacturers rather than from competing firms in smaller cities.

In all their trip through the South, the St. Louisans met with but two rebuffs, and these were so ludicrous in their origin that no ill-will was entertained. They were due to disappointment in love. A young man at Water Valley, Miss., seeing his flancee dancing a cakewalk with Charles Lemp and Harry Prufrock, rushed to a telegraph station, where he wired shead that the St. Louis party were to a man in the condition of boiled owis." This was at 2 o'clock in the afferincen. Yet the inhabitants of the next two towns hid behind barricaded doors. "Private" John M. Allen then came to the rescue, and, after apologies and forgiveness, the St. Louisans departed in good order.

The great source of encouragement was the evidence on every hand of a new-born prosperity in the South. New schools and colleges, new courthouses, churches, factories and dwellings were to be seen in almost every town, and the influx of new agricultural machinery and methods is putting a new aspect on the vast region which had long been suffering under the burdens left by the Civil War. St. Louis products have already gained a firm footing throughout all the Southern States. Furniture, hardware, muchinery, shoes and millinery bearing 5t. Louis trademarks occupied prominent positions in numberless show windows. It was the hope of the excursionists to begin a campaign in the South which shall complete the business interdependence of this section with the World's Fair city, and in the success of their first venture all returned to St. Louis satisfied, while the hearty appreciation of the oratory of Mr. Kern had left no doubt of the South's interest in the Louisiana Purchase Exposition of 1995.

AMERICAN WILL PUT FLYING MACHINES ON THE MARKET.

His Invention Will Retail at $2,000, and, He Asserts, Will Be Capaable of Traveling Through the Air at the Rate of Forty-Five Miles an Hour-Will Carry Six Persons - Plant for Making Machines to Be Enlarged.

Bridgeport, Conn., Nov. 17 -- A flying machine for a retail price of $2,000 will be placed on the market within the next half year, if the plans of Gustave Whitehead of this city carry. Mr. Whitehead says that he has had his enterprise financed and he is confident of success. He now has fifteen skilled machinists in a building which he constructed for the purpose. He says that he will soon double the size of the plant and the number of his working force. Six months ago Whitehead made his first test of the machine, the principles of which are embodied in the model of the machina which he is to sell to any one who cares to buy. It was an almost complete success. and since then he has made demonstration which have won for him the necessary financial backing.

Mr. Whitehead will not reveal the name of the man who is furnishing the money, but he has been seen about the plant frequently and is said to be a resident of New York. The machine, which will be known as the Whitehead, is operated by steam and immense birdlike wings and a propeller moves it through the air. It also has an automo bile attachment which is used to raise i from the ground.

Whitehead says that when he first consived the idea of a flying machine he noticed that birds run a few feet on the ground to gain headway before soaring, and he put in the automobile for that reason He is confident that his apparatus can make forty-five miles an hour and says that he has already traveled at that rate of spee in his old model

"We can put the machine on the market in a few months, and will make a success of the business," he says.

Whitehead is a native of Hungary. came here over a year ago, and has worked as a night watchman for the Wilmot & Hobbs Manufacturing Company, spending most of his days in the shop which he Admittance to the plant is denied to all but himself, the stranger who is financing his scheme and the workmen, who are bound to secrecy. The machine, the inventor says, will carry six persons.

John A. Montgomery's horse has not been found, and it is supposed that Mathies made his escape on this horse after the men had been killed and the house set on fire.

Mathies's wife was at her father's, a few miles from her burned home, and she says she and her husband left home yesterday, her husband leaving the county.

Mathies was indicted last summer for making and passing counterfeit money and was out on ball upon a $2.00 bond. The principal witness against him was a negro living in the same neighborhood. About a month ago the negro was assassinated. The two Montgomerys went to arrest Mathies for making illicit whisky, and it is supposed that they were prevailed upon to remain for the night, and were shot while guarding their prisoner.

A posse of thirty or forty citizens of Oxford went to the scene to-day and every effort will be made to capture Mathies.

HAVE A NEW CLUB.

There Are Charming Bedrooms Dressing Rooms, Tearooms and Bathrooms and All the Other Accessories.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. New York, Nov. 17.-At No. 9, East Forty-sixth street to-morrow New York's latest woman's club, the first of its kind to be conducted on the lines of a man's club, will be opened to membership and will begin at once to demonstrate that, in spite of feminine New York's plethora of clubs, there has been a crying need for this one sort of organization which will afford women the comfort and conveniences that have been so long the exclusive possess of men in this city.

Heretofore the women's clubs have all been devoted to some special object and, however they might strive to lighten up the situation with occasional teas and anmual banquets, the "object" has always loomed dark and threatening upon their horizons.

But this woman's club has neither the elevation of its sister woman nor the con-fusion of its brother man as its end and aim. There will be no papers, no meetings, no conventions. There is not one reform among its purposes. This club's principal aim will be to accommodate out-of-town members who are staying for a few days in town, although residents of the city will also find it extremely convenient in many ways. Ther are charming bedrooms and dressing-rooms, a reception-room, tearoom, luxurious Turkish and Russian baths and the usual accessories of a well-appointed clubbo Refuge for Tired Shoppers.

On the third floor are a number of charm ingly furnished bedrooms, for the use of which a charge will be made. Here the tired shopper may doze gently, and tho woman who has been wearled by a round of social calls may go into a refreshing re-treat for a few hours before taking up again her wearisome social duties. Hairdressers and similarly accomplished persons will be always at call, and the mem-bers may visit in their respective dressing-rooms and receive a succession of treat-ments from which they will emerge with the satisfaction of the perfectly groomed.

Application for membership in the club is already proving it to be a most popular organization. But the society women who compose it do not purpose to permit it to be swamped by a too numerous membership, and the matter of joining is made someand the matter of joining is made somewhat difficult. Application must be made through a patroness or two members, and the Board of Patronesses must approve before a member is admitted. The patronesses are the governors of the club.

R. H. Finley Discusses Wallace-Stone Controversy. To the Editor of The Republic. St. Louis, Nov. 17.-In this morning's Republic I saw a statement from W. H. Wallace that former Governor W. J. Stone bolted the Democratic ticket in 1878 or 1889. As I lived in that district, I think I know something of the facts, and like a great many other slanders there is just enough truth in the statement to lend it color. Of course, I am writing from mem-ory, and may be at fault in some minor de-talls, but of the main facts I am certain. From removals deaths, etc., the Judicial Committee was, I think, entirely obliterated. Perhaps there was one left, but I think not. This district was composed of Earton, Cedar, Dade, St. Clair and Vernon counties. Dade County had a candidate in Judge Parkinson of Greenfield and Vernon to Judge C. P. Scott of Neyada. There in Judge C. R. Scott of Nevada. There was no Judicial Committee to call a can was no Judicial Committee to call a canvention.

Right here comes in the first irregularity. The County Committee of Dade County called a judicial convention and invited the other four counties to send delegates. One county, I think it was St. Clair, responded, but the other three declined to do so, but called county conventions and elected Central Committeemen, who, in turn, met and called a judicial convention. This convention met and nominated Judge Scott, but in the meantime the delegates from Dade and St. Clair counties met and nominated Judge Parkinson, so the district had two Democratic candidates for Circuit Judge, both claiming to be the regular nominee, and from a strictly technical standpoint perhaps neither entitled to the claim.

The Republican party put up C. G. Burton of Nevada, and as Parkinson and Scott divided the Democratic vote about equally Burton was elected.

Now Governor Stone supported Judge Scott, who, it seems to me, came nearer before regularly nominated than did Judge

Now Governor Scott, who, it seems to me, came nearer being regularly nominated than did Judge Parkinson, but this is a point where honest men might differ. R. H. FINLEY. nen might differ.
